Reasons for allowance

The following is an Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance:

None of the prior art discloses or suggests a process of removing contaminants from the pores, lumens and under the cap regions of a hemodialyzer by pressurizing a cleaning solution from the dialysate side of the dialyzer and passing a gas under pressure into the lumen side of the dialyzer so as to form a two phase flow mixture with the back-flushed cleaning solution that produces droplets which create shear or impact stress on the lumen walls of the hollow fibers or passing a mixture of gas-liquid through the lumen side of the dialyzer..

Art Unit: 1746

The closest cited prior art Kopp et al (EP-0289523) disclose to clean filter having elastic, porous hollow fibers with a tubular shell by closing the lumen outlet port 16 and introducing pressurizing clarified liquid into the lumen through the lumen inlet port 18 to stretch substantially all of the pores and to wash them with at least the total volume of clarified liquid and passing a compressed gas to flow through the pores of the lumen into the shell side to dislodge particles from the fibers into the shell side in contrast present invention is concerned to pass gas under pressure or mixture of liquid-gas through the lumen side which create in situ by pressurizing a liquid cleaning solution on the dialysate side so that the liquid cleaning solution infiltrates into the lumen side and combines with a gas flowing through the lumen side.
